TO RESIST CONSOLIDATION

At a meeting of large number of representative citizens of Tropico, at the City Hall last night, a committee of three was appointed to select a Committee of Fifteen to take charge of a campaign of resistance to the consolidation of the City of Tropico with Glendale, or any other effort for the disruption of the city's municipal organization.

The Committee of Three is to report to an adjourned meeting of citizens, tomorrow, Friday evening.

Consolidation with Glendale?
Who wants it?
What for?

It's the same old line-up. Beaten thrice at the polls and twice in the courts, it becomes a solemn duty to see to it that they are beaten again.

If it is proposed to make Tropico and all the west side a part of the City of Glendale, wouldn't it savor of fairness to postpone that city hall business until all the proposed new citizens of the city are consulted? The civilized way to skin a rabbit is to catch it first. But that has not been the usual Glendale way.

The names of the Tropico petitioners for consolidation with Glendale have a familiar look.

There are two Glendales. To which is it proposed to become consolidated? East Glendale or West Glendale?

A number of people can raise money for knocking Tropico, but not for boosting it.

It amounts to a calamity, almost, to the City of Tropico, to be kept in a continued state of agitation and uncertainty over the management of its municipal affairs.

The petition and names on the Tropico petition for the consolidation of Tropico with Glendale are printed in full in another column. Entertaining literature.

We have had our say in this and last week's issue of the Sentinel regarding consolidation with Glendale, and now propose to leave the issue with our electors.

The petition for the consolidation of Tropico with Glendale, elsewhere printed with the names of the Tropico signers, presented to the Glendale Board of Trustees last Monday evening was referred to the City Clerk and City Attorney for certification of signatures. Upon their report, the Board will designate a day for holding the consolidation election. It shall then be the duty of the Board of Trustees of each of the cities of Glendale and Tropico, to give notice of the election by newspaper publication for four weeks. If the result of the consolidation shall be in favor of consolidation, the result must be certified to the Secretary of State. Immediately after the filing the Glendale Board must call an election of the officers required by law to be elected in the new corporation, which election must be held within six months thereafter. When the new officers of the new municipal corporation are elected and the result duly certified, the consolidation shall be deemed to be effected.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Chicken dinners every Sunday at the Mission Restaurant.

Don't forget to bring in your hats, boys. Phone Glendale 24-R.

Home cooking at the Mission Restaurant. Short orders at all hours.

Mrs. J. C. Brown leaves Saturday the 4th, for a visit to her relatives in St. Louis and Chicago. Her absence will be indefinite.

The Glendale News and Jewel City Press were rival bidders for the city printing. The bid of The News was 30 cents a column inch. That of the Press was 20. No graft in that was there?

The Tropico Market will change its custom of delivery and will make its first early delivery in and about Tropico, on the north, following it in Glassell Park with another later delivery on the North.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Rothamel, the new owner of the Tropico Market has Mr. Robert Danner, of Olympia, Washington for his shop manager, Mr. Stanley Dressler, of Los Angeles for assistant and Harry Hayward for delivery clerk, and they are all busy.

Mr. J. S. Ferguson of Muscatine, Iowa, is of Tropico's recent arrivals. He will open up a first-class harness shop this week.

Miss Alma Stone is added to the Tropico Mercantile Company's efficient clerical force, and the company has thereby hit upon a piece of good fortune.

D. Flanders and sons have a big job of lathing at Van Nuys and many others on the way.

It is not so much a question of what a man's life was in San Francisco as what it is here.

J. C. Carter, successor to Edward Meyers, of the Mission Dining Parlor, has opened a first-class restaurant, and will furnish you with lots of good things to eat. Just like Mother used to, also ice cream and choice candies. See ad in another column.

Mr. J. S. Ferguson is of Tropico's recent arrivals. He hails from Muscatine, Iowa. He is a harness maker by trade, and is opening up a first-class harness and repair shop in the building just north of the bakery on the San Fernando road.

A flat rate fare of ten cents from Sixth and Main to Tropico Avenue, with round trip and commutation rates in proportion is in sight. The proposition is one that appeals to the sense of fairness of the Inter-Urban management, and they will govern themselves accordingly.

The Thursday Afternoon Club held a reception at the home of Mrs. D. F. E. Tholen on Thursday of last week. The spacious rooms were beautifully decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and greenery. The music, of musicians from the city, on the harp and violin, was of the rarest excellence. Guests to the number of seventy-five were served with delicate refreshments. In the receiving line were Mrs. D. Griswold, president of the club, and her officers, Mesdames Bullis, Conrad, Brown and Parratt. The serving table was presided over by Mrs. L. C. Rice and Mrs. Frank Ballantyne.

The Winning of Barbara Worth is the title of a novel by Harold Bell Wright every lover of good literature hereabout is reading and raving over. It is a stirring story of love and labor in the reclamation of the Imperial Valley—Barbara's Desert, as it is named in the story—otherwise known by its Indian designation as The Hollow of God's Hand. The character's are all strongly drawn, and as true to nature that none of them appears fictitious, indeed, any of them are, which we half doubt. Barbara, the heroine of the story, was a wife of the great desert, and was the inspiration of the men who brought its reclamation to a successful issue. Jefferson Worth was her foster father and the western financial "figurer" of the possibilities of the vast region of silence and despair, and James Greenfield was the eastern capitalist who financed the diversion of the Colorado river for its irrigation and reclamation. The methods of these two men are brought into sharp contrast. Those of Jefferson Worth were "the methods of a man laboring with his brother men, sharing their hardships, sharing their returns; a man using money as a workman uses his tools to fashion and build and develop, adding thus to the wealth and welfare of kind." Those of the other man were the methods of capital, impersonal, inhuman—the methods of force governed by laws as fixed as the laws of nature, neither cruel nor kind; inconsiderate of man's misery or happiness, his life or death; using man for its own ends—profit, as men use water and soil and sun and air." The Seer, Abe Lee, Willard Holmes, Tex and Pat, were the loyal lieutenants of Jefferson Worth in the cause of the people and worshippers of Barbara. But the book must be read to be appreciated. FOR SALE—First-class, four-hole range for wood or coal. Water connections. W 125, Tropico avenue.

CHURCH NOTES

At the Methodist Episcopal church, Sunday, November 5, the new pastor, Rev. S. W. Carnes, will preach with "Unclaimed Blessings" for his subject in the morning, and "The Controlled Life," in the evening.

The need of the Methodists for a new plant is noticed by the new pastor, and so, he says, we may look out for a fine church building on the corner of Central and Palmer, in the near future. "It ought to be and what ought to be can be," he says.

At the Presbyterian Church, Dr. Hatch will have for the subject of his morning sermon: "The Conquest of Death." That of his evening sermon will be "An Open Secret."

THE NEW SUNDAY SCHOOL ROOM to be erected as an annex to the Presbyterian church, will be a very attractive, though inexpensive structure. Progress is being made toward securing the necessary funds. The young people and the Sunday school are enthusiastic and persevering in their efforts and it cannot be long until success will reward their diligence.

BARACA NOTES

By Harold H. Story

The Baraca Class of the Presbyterian church held a good business meeting last Tuesday evening in the C. E. room of the church. Old business was disposed of and new movements started. Mr. Hal McNutt was presented with membership to the class. The next business session, to be held soon, will be announced Sunday morning. After the business meeting the boys joined together for a general jollification. The final part of the program was the making of an estimate on the results of the Los Angeles primary election. An average of the estimates gave Harriman about six hundred votes over Alexander.

We want every fellow to be sure and turn out next Sunday morning. We must have all the help we can for our new movements. We would also like to have you attend the evening church services. Dr. Hatch is giving us interesting sermons on live subjects.

The Tropico Thursday Afternoon Club will call a meeting at the Tropico school house at 3:15 p.m. on Friday, November 3rd, for the purpose of organizing a civil government study class. All women in Tropico are invited to attend. After the class has been organized the Parent-Teachers Association will hold their regular meeting at 3:45 p.m.

OBITUARY

Our community is again called upon to share its sympathy with one of our best known families. On last Thursday morning, Mrs. William Shea died very suddenly at her home on Brand boulevard. She was in her usual health and although not vigorous, she showed no sign of more than ordinary weakness. The immediate cause of death was heart failure.

Mrs. Shea was born April 2nd, 1870 at Oil City, Pennsylvania. After 12 years her people removed to Raco, Colorado, where they remained for another 12 years. June 12th, 1888 she became a bride. With her husband, Mr. William Shea, nine years ago, she came to California in search of health. Five years ago they came with their family to Tropico where they have remained a happy household until her death. Mrs. Shea was 41 years of age. The surviving members of her family are her husband, Mrs. Laura B. Bennett, now residing in Los Angeles, Miss Blanche, Master James and Miss Lila Mary with their father at home.

Mrs. Shea was a "shut-in" during her life in our city. Only a few knew her intimately, but those who had the privilege of close friendship with her will ever remember her most gratefully. Weak in body, but of clear intellect and noble heart, she did her part unflinchingly as wife, mother and friend until the end.

CARD OF THANKS

Editor Sentinel: We desire to express through your paper our most sincere thanks to the many friends who came to our help in the sorrow that fell so suddenly upon us. It is impossible to return such kindness, but the memory of them can never die.

WM. SHEA.

"Billy" Sunday says it costs $545 to save a soul in New York, whereas it costs but $395 in Chicago. In the balmy climate of Houston, we doubt if it costs more than 80 cents. It is almost impossible for a soul to keep in New York or Chicago.—Houston Post.

Applicants for membership in Visor Lodge 293 K of P of Tropico will find application blanks at the Davis Grocery, or any of the Knights of Pythias brothers.

To perpetuate the disfranchisement of the women of California and save them from a voter's awful responsibility were the grounds of the opposition of the Glendale News to women's suffrage. Likewise those of the slum and saloon interests of San Francisco.

Forty per cent of the male voters of California were indifferent as to whether the amendments to the constitution were adopted or rejected, and therefore refrained from voting. It is safe to assume, however, that the affirmative vote expresses the will of the popular majority in the matter.

The way was cleared for the future annexation of Pasadena, Alhambra, South Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Glendale and Tropico when the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council decided last Monday afternoon to turn down the protest of the Garvanza Improvement Association against the Garvanza annexation district, which was aimed at cutting out territory from proposed annexation that is necessary for making all the cities named continuous to Los Angeles—an essential pre-requisite to their consolidation with that city.

THE K. OF P. ENTERTAIN

Another of the noted open meetings of Visor Lodge No. 293, K. of P. was held at Logan's hall last Monday evening. The attendance was larger than ever—numbering over two hundred. That it was a grand success is made apparent by the fact that the great crowd was treated to the rendition of the following excellent program:

1.—Welcome by Bro. F. H. Davis.

2.—Violin, cornet and piano, Mrs. West, Miss Baker and Mr. Baker.

3.—Drill by Degree Team of Visor Lodge.

4.—Address by Bro. Chas. Johnson, C. C. of Miramonte Lodge Highland Park.

5.—Degree team retiring drill.

6.—Song by Pythagoras, Bro. J. E. Shuey, P. C.

7.—Recitation by Bro. W. J. Hibbert.

8.—Song by Bro. H. G. Pettit.

9.—Violin cornet and piano, Mrs. West, Miss Baker and Mr. Baker.

Refreshments and dancing followed.

A LITTLE EGOTISTIC

If you wish to build a road across your neighbor's land and he haggles about the price, go ahead and build it regardless of the owner. It will be a great convenience to the neighborhood and a short cut to strangers coming from a distance. Never mind the law. Proceed in "spite of opposition."

Mr. Roosevelt ignores, as is his custom, the fact that there is such a thing as law, based on justice and found to be absolutely necessary to the existence of human society and recognized by civilized nations as controlling their intercourse. His fallacies are two: First, that the canal was an absolute necessity instead of merely a convenience. He justifies his action by that of President Lincoln in upholding the union by force and assuming war powers not within the letter of the constitution. If ever there was a prudent man it was Abraham Lincoln and he recognized that a nation acting under the impulse of self-preservation could and would do many things for which the laws of peace could furnish no warrant. No lawyer would step over the bounds of international law for the sake of building a railroad or canal in foreign territory. Mr. Roosevelt's next fallacy is that the end justifies the means. Granting it to have been our duty to dig the canal it was right to act wrongly in carrying out our duty. He says: "Be it remembered that unless I had acted exactly as I did act there would now be no Panama canal. It is folly to assert devotion to an end, and at the same time to condemn the only means by which the end can be achieved."

The Panama canal is a great achievement. It is a triumph of civil and sanitary engineering and of business organization, but how do these points bear on the ethics of conniving at the dismemberment of a friendly state and recognizing a rebellion before it makes its appearance?

Mr. Roosevelt ends with a triumphant blast of egotism which will become a classic in its way:

"Not only was the course followed as regards Panama right in every detail and at every point, but there could have been no variation from the course except for the worse. We not only did what was technically justifiable, but we did what was demanded by every ethical consideration, national and international. We did our duty by the world, we did our duty by the people of Panama, and we did our duty by ourselves. We did harm to no one save as harm is done to a bandit by a policeman who deprives him of his chance for blackmail. The United States has many honorable chapters in its history, but no more honorable chapter than that which tells of the way in which our right to dig the Panama canal was secured and of the manner in which the work itself has been carried out."

He balances his own microcosm of the universe, and the scales incline in his favor. He has used all the capital I's before this, seven in one paragraph, nine in another and so on, and now says "we," but he still means himself alone, or possibly himself and Providence, if he allows Providence any credit when he is in full action.

DISPUTE NOT NEAR A SETTLEMENT

Berlin Government to Reiterate Demand for Open Door

Rumors regarding the retention of German reservists with the colors because of the Moroccan situation have been set at rest by an official statement that all of those enlisted in accordance with orders issued last March were being dismissed within three days following their return from the maneuvers.

Reports that Great Britain, Holland and Belgium are continuing their military preparations cause some disquietude, but the general feeling of reassurance prevails.

The German reply to the French note will be concerned again chiefly with the question of guarantees whereby a policy of an open door in Morocco will be assured to all nations, including arrangements to prevent the customs administration and railroad management being so manipulated as to give an unfair advantage to French shippers and providing for a fair division in the matter of public works.

GET $315,000 FROM NORTHERN BANK

Burglars Make Biggest Haul in British Columbia

Three hundred and fifteen thousand dollars have been stolen from the branch of the Bank of Montreal, in New Westminster, B. C. Five burglars entered the bank by the front door, broke through the thin metal coating of the vault, blew the safe by charges of nitroglycerin and got away with their booty without being seen, except by a Chinese caretaker.

There was in all $350,000 in the bank safes. Chief of Police Bradshaw believes the men would have taken it all if they could have carried it all. As it was, they took all they could carry, leaving all the silver and notes of small denomination, as well as damaged five-dollar and ten-dollar bills lying around the floor and tables of the room of one of the clerks.

SOON TO DECIDE ON RECIPROCITY PLAN

Dominion Voting on Free Trade Policy This Week

On Thursday the electorate of Canada will decide by ballot the issue of reciprocity with the United States.

The issue is clearly and sharply defined. For the United States it means reduced tariff rates, an additional flow of natural products, including the food necessities of life, and a reduced cost of living.

For Canada it means an expanded market, an outlet for the superfluous products of the Dominion and increased prosperity and happiness for the people on both sides of the border.

In the issue also and written large so that all men can see is the question of the continued trust domination of the North American continent.

QUEBEC, September 17.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be returned for Quebec East by acclamation. R. Leduc, who was nominated to oppose him, has retired from the field.

COAST DEFENSES TO BE STRENGTHENED

Full Divisions of War Troops to Guard Pacific Shores

Complete plans have been formulated by the War Department and are to be carried into execution at once to provide full and adequate protection to the Pacific Coast in the event of an invasion by a foreign power. Not only are the coast fortifications to be amplified and extended so as to afford a complete defense against any effort to capture the harbors, but a sufficient land force is being organized to repel an invasion from that direction.

Orders will be issued soon, according to authoritative sources of information, for the creation of a full division of land troops on the Pacific Coast to replace the skeleton organization now existing, which has an actual approximate strength of less than 4000 men.

Following a precedent, the militia organizations that are up to Government standard—which includes the California National Guard—will be used in making up the division. It is the purpose to have a perfectly complemented land-fighting machine, and to this end sufficient regular troops will be taken there to make up, with the militia organizations, the full division as outlined. There are not more than seven thousand militia troops in the three Pacific States, including the recently organized field batteries in San Francisco and Los Angeles. In order to perfect the proposed division it will be necessary to bring West approximately 12,000 men.

OUTER EXPLOSION DESTROYED MAINE

Position of Keel Shows Wreck Was Caused by Mine

The Maine was destroyed by an external explosion. There no longer remains any doubt as to the manner in which the United States battleship was sunk in Havana harbor on the night of February 15, 1898.

The cofferdam about the wreck has been pumped out and the mud cleared away to a greater extent than ever before. The clearing away of the wreck reveals the double bottom of the ship with part of the keel standing in perpendicular position some twenty-eight feet higher than the natural position.

This perfectly confirms the report and testimony which Ensign Powelson gave before the investigating board after the disaster and which was based upon reports made to him by divers just after the explosion.

It is the confirmed belief that such a tearing of the ship's bottom could not have been produced by an interior explosion. It is further said that no regulation military mine could have wrought such terrific havoc. It must have been a huge mine, as Captain Sigsbee and others suggested at the time; perhaps a sugar mill boiler or a large cask loaded with explosives.

FEMININE FADS CAUSE DISASTERS

Railroad Statistics Show the Danger of Following Styles.

That high heels and hobble skirts are responsible for a large proportion of injuries sustained by women while getting on and off trains and mounting and descending stairways and stations is the conclusion reached by the Pennsylvania Railway claims department, after an investigation covering three months, in which seventy-three such cases were recorded. The injuries ranged from slight contusions to painful sprains and cuts. Typical cases are set forth:

High heel caught on step of coach and tore off. High heel caught while ascending stairs; wore hobble skirt.

It is pointed out that the railroad can do nothing to prevent these casualties because "women of all time have followed styles that are dangerous to life and limb."

PROHIBITS MERCHANTS GIVING PRIZES TO PROMOTE SALES

District Attorney Foltz, in a communication to the Stockton Merchants' Association, advised all merchants to refrain from any schemes for the distribution of prizes in connection with the sale of their wares. It is held by the Stockton official that all such methods are lotteries within the meaning of the law, and that their presence will be proceeded against as violations of the statutes. In the communication to the merchants it is explained that the notice is given at this time owing to the approach of the holiday season, during which merchants heretofore have conducted such sale methods.

Filipinos Face Famine.

Danger of a famine in the Philippines on account of the failure of the rice crop has become so threatening that Governor-General Forbes has decided to order the purchase by the government of an entire shipload of the cereal in Rangoon. The cargo will be sold to the people at cost. The price of the staple on the markets at Manila has advanced far above all previous records, with only a small supply in sight.

IMPORTANT FOREIGN NEWS

In September a selection of the marvelous finds brought home by the three Turfan exhibitions from the northern districts of Chinese Turkestan will be opened in the Ethnographical Museum in Berlin. It will be a grand opportunity for all historians, ethnographers and archaeologists to gather a heap of new facts and to fill up many gaps of their knowledge of the past. No less than 100 wall pictures have been cut out in the ruins unearthed in Central Asia.

Ten million taels will be devoted to the construction of the Yang Tse bridge which will unite Hankow to Ochang, and over which the line of the Hankow-Canton railway will pass. The bridge will be so constructed that the largest ships can pass under. There will be three great ways on it, one for the railway, one for foot passengers and one for carriages. One end of the bridge will rest on Turtle mountain and the other on the Pagoda of Storcks.

Jose Martinez, a revolutionary leader of Zapotlan, declares he will put 1000 armed men in the field in the State of Jalisco unless assurances are given that the plan of the revolution as outlined at San Luis Potosi last fall shall be put into effect. He is said to have recruited a large force in the mountains near Zapotlan. Five hundred troops have been ordered to proceed against them.

Ten thousand metal workers at Leipzig and 9000 in the Thuringian district have been locked out because some of the men had struck. The national organization of employees have taken up the conflict with a view to a settlement, a failure to reach which will, it is expected, result in a lockout of 25,000 men at Dresden and Chemnitz.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

F. G. Philipps' sloop Monsoon, which won the Santa Cruz race last year and started again in the race Friday night, put in an appearance at Sausalito Sunday afternoon, after some little apprehension had been felt for her. It seems that the Monsoon encountered some rough weather shortly after crossing the bar. She lost her small boat and the skipper then decided to put back to Sausalito, but instead of doing so a trip to Valjejo was made.

Frank M. Newbert, the newly appointed member of the California State Fish and Game Commission, took his seat in the Commission at its recent session. Commissioner Newbert was appointed by Governor Johnson to succeed Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, who resigned because he is going abroad and will be absent from California for many months.

Fifteen of the thirty-eight aviators who started in the European circuit aviation race received parts of the prize money. Two were killed, three were disabled by injuries, ten never got out of sight of the starting field, and eight retired at various stages of the race without having won any of the minor prizes offered for exceptional performances on some one of the stages. Seven only finished the full course. Of the $90,880, Beaumont-Conneau, winner, received $33,000; Garros, $13,780; Vidart, $12,588, and Vedrines, $10,000, while others received smaller sums.

Joe Tinker, who was suspended for the season and fined $150 by Manager Chance for alleged lax play and "back talk," has been reinstated and the fine remitted.

Umpire George Hildebrand will umpire the Portland-Oakland series in the Northwest.

Marvint, the woman aviator, came to grief at St. Etienne, France, and scared a big crowd in the grounds of a restaurant. While monoplane she lost her nerve and collided with a tree. She and the machine fell into the grounds and scattered the diners and waiters. The machine was wrecked, but no one was hurt.

After thrilling a great throng of Sunday visitors to the beach at Long Beach with a spiral dip close to the wave tops, Aviator Frank Champion startled the spectators with an unexpected plunge into the surf a hundred feet from shore. Bathers and life guards swam to his assistance, unfastened the straps which bound him to his seat and brought him safely ashore.

DOCTOR SEEKING BAIL

Woman Says Her Arrest Was Result of Persecution.

Mrs. Linda Burfield Hazzard, commonly known as "the starvation doctor," who was arrested in Kitsap county, Washington, on a charge of murder in the first degree for causing the death of Miss Claire Williamson, a wealthy Englishwoman, by her starvation treatment, spent a day making arrangements to furnish the $10,000 bail fixed by the Kitsap county court.

Mrs. Hazzard declared that her arrest was the result of persecution by licensed physicians whom she called "the medical trust." The prosecuting attorney of Kitsap county said that there was no ground for Mrs. Hazzard's assertion.

FOREIGN MERCHANDISE DISTRIBUTED.

The quantity of foreign merchandise brought into the United States and redistributed to other parts of the world increases year by year. The value of foreign merchandise exported from the United States amounted to $12,000,000 in 1890; $24,000,000 in 1900, and $36,000,000 in 1911 having doubled in the decade, 1890-1900 and increased 50 per cent. since 1900.

Art works chemicals, cotton, fruits, furs and fur skins, fibers, hides and skins, india rubber, lead, lumber, tobacco and sugar are the most important of the articles or classes of articles imported and re-exported, though to this list must be added many other articles of less importance. Canada, England, Germany, France, Belgium, Cuba, Mexico and Argentina are the principal countries to which this foreign merchandise is exported, though the full list to which merchandise of this character is sent includes every grand division of the world, more than seventy countries.

It seems curious to think of the United States sending foreign merchandise to England, the greatest importing country in the world, and yet more than $9,000,000 worth of foreign merchandise was sent from the United States to England in the fiscal year 1910. This included more than $3,000,000 worth of india rubber; more than $1,000,000 worth of raw cotton; about $200,000 worth of manila hemp; nearly a million dollars worth of lead, in the form of "base bullion;" more than half a million dollars worth of wool; one-half million dollars worth of raw sugar; one-half million dollars worth of hides; a quarter of a million dollars worth of tea; also smaller values in cocoa, coffee, art works, diamonds, sisal and furs and fur skins.

Canada is our largest customer for foreign merchandise, the total value of exports of foreign merchandise to that country being in 1910, thirteen and one-half million dollars, the principal items forming this large total being bananas, nearly one and one-half million dollars value; hides and skins, about three-fourths of a million dollars value; india rubber, over three and one-third million dollars value; manila hemp nearly one million dollars value; tobacco, nearly one million dollars value; gum chicle, used chiefly in the manufacture of chewing gum, over a half million; and in less values, automobiles, bristles, coal tar products, glycerin nitrate of soda, extract of quebracho, used for tanning purposes; mineral and vegetable wax, raw cotton, raw silk, raw sugar, pig tin, coffee, cocoa, burlaps and other manufactures of fibers.

The value of india rubber of foreign production exported from the United States in the fiscal year just ended aggregated about six million dollars, being, however, slightly less than in 1910, in which year the total value of rubber of foreign production exported was seven and one-half million dollars. Of this total three and one-third million dollars value went to Canada, three and one-fourth million dollars to England, and the remainder chiefly to other European countries. Bananas are another item in the list of articles exported amounting to nearly two million dollars in the year just ended, and about one and one-half million dollars in 1910. Nearly all of these go to Canada, the only other country to which any were sent in 1910 being Mexico, a little over six thousand dollars worth, against nearly one and one-half million dollars worth to Canada.

We think that Italy is rather premature in its assault upon Turkey. The remainder of the civilized world will postpone action until the last Thursday of November.—Salt Lake Herald-Republican.

CHRISTIAN MISSION TO OPEN HOME FOR EMPLOYED WOMEN

To meet the need of young women, who for various reasons must work for a mere pittance and who could not afford the usual charges asked for board and room, the Christian Mission and Industrial association has procured a five-story building at 116 South Hope street and leased it for a term of years. There will be accommodations for at least 65 girls. It will be a home in every sense of the word, conducted on Christian lines. Board and rooms will be provided for $3, $3.50 and $4 per week, with privilege of a laundry.

Speaking of the plan, H. Connett, superintendent, said: "There is no such a home in this city, where the working girls, and where the strange girl coming to the city can feel she is safe from the city's allurements, and where all who enter can have the comfort and conveniences of a home. There is an absolute pressing need for such a home, and the opening of such by the Christian Mission and Industrial association has met with the hearty approval of many leading citizens."

"We are trying to raise $2500 for furnishings, and to put the building in proper shape, and it is hoped that the good people of this city will quickly and liberally respond. Contributions should be mailed to 211-215 East Seventh street, and checks made payable to the Christian Mission and Industrial association of California, incorporated."

It must be somewhat humiliating to Italy and Turkey to learn that their war has caused less disturbance in the money market than a mere bluff in Morocco.—New York World.

As yet dissolution of the Steel trust is confined to Wall street.—Chicago News.

Recently in Seattle in a cigar-stand appeared the sign, "We give $15.00 for 1909 Lincoln pennies." No less a person was attracted by this than Judge Watson. He walked up to the counter and laying down a penny triumphantly asked for $15.00. The clerk took the penny, examined it closely, asked if it were genuine, and after several minutes sighed and said he guessed it was good. "Certainly it is," answered the judge. "Where is my fifteen dollars?" "Where," said the clerk, "are the other 1908?"—Life.

To our patrons: We are arranging for a thoroughly equipped newspaper printing office, including linotype machine and cylinder press, and want your assistance. What do you say? Let us have your substantial backing—by word and deed, and you will have a newspaper of which you can have no occasion to be ashamed. Let us hear from you.

The Tropico Inter-urban Sentinel stands sturdily for NO SURRENDER of the powers, privileges and franchises of the City of Tropico to either the City of Glendale or the City of Los Angeles AT THIS TIME.

If the city trustees are not performing their duties as they should the orderly thing to do is to resort to the recall—not to revolution and disruption.

"Little as we love it," says The Times we will help the party of the progressives to elect Alexander. Well, if billingsgate and abuse will help The Times will turn it out good and plenty.

Facts are stubborn things and Job Horrigan's lead for the mayoralty of Los Angeles is one of them. The other is that the toga of the overall is the badge of apparent political ascendancy in the mightiest city on the Pacific coast.

The malignant course of three or four men, who have made themselves conspicuous in a fight upon Tropico's municipal incorporation, is developing a feud that will involve every one of its organizations, religious, business and social, and last for a generation.

As certain as the sun will rise tomorrow is the election of Woodrow Wilson to the presidency of the United States at the next presidential election if President Taft is made his competitor, and it is almost as certain whoever else is. ## "The Autopsy of a Grafter"

Was the subject of the sermon preached by Dr. Hatch of the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning. The text was taken from St. Luke's story of Zaccheus the grafting tax-gatherer of Jericho, "who climb a tree his lord and master for to see." Not that he is called a "grafter" in the sacred book, but that in modern colloquialism he would have been so called. Of the taxes he had gathered, enough had stuck to his fingers to make him rich. In bible language he was no doubt a thief, a person who had broken the commandment, Thou shalt not steal.

According to Justice Brewer, "Everyone charged with a trust should have an eye single to that trust. The moment private pecuniary gain is sought through the advantage of that trust, some one is guilty of grafting."

According to Ex-Governor Folk of Missouri, "Graft in its last analysis is a special privilege, either exercised contrary to law or one the law itself may give. Some special privilege is at the bottom of every graft. No one ever heard of an official being corrupted in order to give equal rights to all. It is always for the purpose of obtaining some special privilege for the few."

As thus defined the offence of grafting does not differ materially from plain stealing, and in the light of these definitions Zaccheus clearly answers the description of a grafter. He was the president of a tax-gathering organization, a farmgeneral of the Roman taxes. Aetioi hrdl ihunuu had taken advantage of for "private pecuniary gain." But he made full restitution and received a full pardon for his sin at the hands of Jesus.

Zaccheus was certainly not the only grafter of his time, but his is the only instance of the restitution of ill-gotten gains under the pricks of conscience and for the purchase of salvation the Bible record preserves.

The Zaccheuses of our day are few. Of grafters there are many; but of restitution we seldom hear. Indeed, as in Jesus' time, until very recently their offence has been generally regarded with indifference—not reconded as a detestable crime, or much more than a mild moral obliquity—all due, of course, to a perverted public conscience; a stifled sense of duty and humanity—a vulgar standard of success—the spirit of avarice.

We doubt if it is just to the profession of the law to hold its members accountable for this condition in the relations of men. It remained for the Folks and Heney's and other representatives of the great legal fraternity to bring the public to a realizing senses of its accountability for this shameful and sinful condition. But for their efforts, for all that teachers of religion and morality have done, the grafters would have continued on in the unhindered plying of their vocations by popular sufferance. To them it is due that a grafter is looked upon as no better than a common thief. Theretofore grafters were enveloped in an atmosphere of semi-respectability.

The Glendale News was opposed to imposing upon the women of California a voter's responsibility. So where the saloon and slum interests of San Francisco.

WASHINGTON PARK NOTES

Mrs. H. E. Newton entertained the "Jolly Club" with whist at her home Thursday evening, as it was so near Halloween the decorations were fitting to that occasion. A particularly enjoyable feature was the supper which was spread after the games. A jack-o'-lantern made from a big yellow pumpkin occupied the center of the table with all sorts of favors grouped about it. The menu consisted of oyster stew, olives, celery, pumpkin pie and coffee. Besides the club members there were present Mr. and Mrs. George Dunkum, Mrs. Joseph McGath, Mrs. Hugh Daugherty, Miss Myrtle Holland, Mr. Joseph McGahan.

A charming Halloween party was the enjoyment planned by Miss Myrtle Hall for her guests Tuesday evening at her home on San Fernando road. Black cats, pumpkins, witches and yellow crepe paper, with quantities of yellow chrysanthemums were used to enliven the home. Little Miss Iva Hall and one of her playmates in ghost costumes haunted the reception rooms. After several games of whist, true Halloween dainties, such as "Food for the Witches," and "A Hot Time" were served. Cards ornamented with black cats marked places for Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Stirling, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter, Miss Haigh, Miss Sailor, Mr. Hall, Mr. Joseph McGahan and Mr. Tarr.

The lecture on "The Flag of Our Country," by Miss Frances Richardson, given under the auspices of the Washington Park Parent Teachers Association, at the school house, was a decided success. Miss Richardson illustrated her talk with flags which were used at various times in the United States. After the speaking, a cake in the shape of a lamb was donated by Mrs. Carrie Valenta to be raffled off for the benefit of the mothers' circle. Over eight dollars were cleared on the lamb. Winifred Adlan held the lucky number.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Talamantes were Sunday guests of Mrs. Talamante's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hunter.

Mr. Clayton Cannon had the misfortune to break a bone in his ankle.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Handorf, Jr., made a business trip to Simi, Saturday.

Mr. Max Huberman took an automobile party composed of Mrs. Huberman, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter and sons, Edward and Johnnie to Sunland for quail hunting, the first of the week.

Mrs. Urcanie Sellier attended a dance given by "The Foresters of America," at Blanchard hall, Saturday evening.

Mr. G. W. Lyons took an automobile party of Eastern capitalists over several large orange properties in Riverside County last Sunday. The party was very much impressed with the natural beauty and possibilities of the various properties and several large acreages were sold. The entire party motored to Riverside, later in the day, for dinner at Glenwood Tavern and returned to Los Angeles in the evening, reaching home about eight o'clock.

On Tuesday, October 24th, Mrs. I. M. Edmunds was hostess at a birthday dinner and Five Hundred party. The color scheme of decoration was yellow and green. The living and dining rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow Good Gracious chrysanthemums tied with large bows of yellow satin ribbon. The table decorations showed exquisite taste. The electric light dome was covered with immense blooms with a graceful festoon of smilax to each corner of the table. The places were also indicated by an extra large bloom, tied with shower bows of yellow satin ribbon, also beautiful hand-painted place cards. Covers were laid for Mr. M. M. Gilchrist, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lyons, Miss Marguerite Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Patterson, Mrs. Lulu F. Mitchell, Miss Frances Mitchell, Mrs. Edmunds and Miss Edmunds.

Woodhams, of San Jose. Black and orange were the colors carried out in the house and table decorations. All of the interested parties were recipients of many beautiful remembrances from their hosts of friends.

INCUBATION SECRETS

Some wonderful discoveries have been recently made in this field, the most important being a new regulator for automatically controlling Heat, Moisture and Ventilation.

The Geo. H. Lee Company of 225 West Second street, Los Angeles, Cal., has just published a new incubator book that covers all of these new ideas fully, and which will be sent free to any interested person on request.

The next move is for a ten-cent flat-rate fare on the Los Angeles Inter-urban line to and from Tropico avenue—a round trip rate of 15 cents, and the same fare to Tropico as to Casa a commutation rate in proportion. Verdugo is not fair.
